

Marco Franzosi

Strategic Assistant to Head of the Novartis Foundation

Marco Franzosi is the Strategic Assistant to the Head of the Novartis Foundation, Dr. Ann Aerts, responsible for providing strategic and financial guidance for the foundation's programs, operations and Board.

Prior to joining the Novartis Foundation in July 2017, Marco was Strategic Assistant of the Head of Public Affairs. In this role, Marco supervised the consolidation of Public Affairs strategic priorities and the operations of the Public Affairs Council, and supported the Novartis Delegation to the World Economic Forum meeting in Davos. Previously, he had several project management roles in the Novartis Group, in NBS, Quality Assurance and Integrity & Compliance.

Before joining Novartis, Marco held management consulting roles (Accenture, E4tech, a-connect) and business development roles in the renewable energy industry, where he led the scouting, feasibility and development of several investment opportunities.

Marco has a degree in Engineering and a degree in Natural Sciences from the University of Pavia, Italy and a Master in Technology from the Imperial College London.